Homecoming Week Started off with a new charge of spirit. The students very enthused about Homecoming Week, came to the first of five assemblies on Oct. 17 to participate in a marshmallow eating contest, and a tricycle race. Sally Willerford got a total of 21 marshmallows in her magic vacuum mouth to win the contest for the juniors. Randy Sharp proved to be a fish fan as he ate 5 fishes to win the contest for the juniors once again. Seniors took the tricycle race, as they fiercely beat the underclassmen. The assembly held on Wed. Oct. 18 was no exception for school spirit as the sharpest looking male cheerleaders led different cheers for the school. Steve Brown, Dan Gulley, John Schatz, Pete Mc Cauley, and Paul Mundell led the seniors to an excellent pep rally. The underclassmen cheerleaders who were Steve Lopez, Craig Yancey, Reed Searl, Scott Gray, Carl Lucas, Mike Snider, Mike Faulhaber, Blake Wallis, and Brad Gray all did a fine job at the pep rally. Varsity football players were sold on Thursday during an assembly which proved to be very interesting to the student body. Students bought the "slaves" from $1.50 to $11.50. The 18th of Oct. brought the return of the Powder Puff Football Games to Hemet High, Juniors winning by 12 8.

Friday after school on October 20, 1972, the last pep rally was held for the Homecoming Week. The rally was held for the football squad as they were to play Palm Springs in the evening.

During the rally, Luann Lutzner was crowned Homecoming Queen for 1972. Luann, a senior, was crowned in behalf of the student body as she received the most votes from the students.

"Delta Vu" was the theme for the traditional Homecoming Dance. The dance was held on Saturday, October 21, 1972 from 9:00 p.m. until 12:00 p.m.

School trustees vote 5-2 to retain closed campus policy at school

By BILL JENNINGS
Daily Enterprise Staff Writer

HERMET — School trustees last night by a 5-2 vote retained a closed campus policy for Hermet High School.

The vote followed nearly two months of study, several public meetings, two opposing petitions and differing straw votes. It climaxed an hour's discussion on the merits of two alternative proposals last night.

Students in October had proposed a modified open campus policy meaning students who lived within a half mile of the East Stetson Avenue School could go home for lunch if their parents gave their consent in writing.

Last night the student council, represented by Steve Duffin, the student body president, modified their original request and asked for a free lunch period off campus for any student whose parents requested it with strict student policing controls. There was no half mile limit.

NEITHER ALTERNATIVE carried, although superintendent Robert Hummel told trustees he had favored the half mile proposal until last week and when he discussed the issue with residents near the school and others who reportedly presented a petition signed by 834 persons asking retention of the closed campus policy.

The question was mentioned again by Joe Pehl, who also has served as spokesman for the petitioners. The document was not presented during the board meeting.

"We feel the petition is indicative of the pulse of the community," Pehl said, adding that he felt the board and administration had given the matter plenty of consideration for more than two years before the new school opened last September.

WHILE HIGH SCHOOL classes were held on a downtown campus from 1911 until last June there was no closed campus policy. Students were permitted to leave the grounds for lunch without passes or any controls.

Several speakers took up both sides of the issue last night. About 80 persons attended the board meeting. Only one adult appeared in full support of the student position. This was Mitzi McCauley, who lives a long block from the campus.

Mrs. McCauley, wife of a local physician, said she did not represent a group but had talked to many people who felt as she and who had faith in young people. She felt there was too much supervision of students.

Dr. Hummel presented a lengthy explanation telling how trustees and administrators for more than two years pondered the opening of the new campus, studied the merits of open versus closed lunch hour regulations and decided for many reasons that the present policy is the best.

Trustees Don Keener and Earl Waser voted against closed campus but third board member Verne Larson said she would support the modified open policy if she could be convinced it would not cause discrimination against students who do not own automobiles or leave the campus.

The campus is about three miles from downtown Hermet in a residential area leading to the present closed campus area. These were two of the factors policy.

Trustees Reject Opening Campus

Hemet High School will remain a closed campus during lunchtime as trustees of the school district Monday night voted to deny a request to modify the closed campus policy.

Acting upon the recommendation of Dr. Robert Hummel, the board voted five to two against modifying the policy. Voting against Dr. Hummel's recommendation were trustees Don Kellner and G. Earl Waller.

Trustees were presented with a new request from Steve Duffin, president of the Associated Student Body. This new request differed from the original one in that it set no limitations on distance the student could go when leaving the campus.

The first proposal presented to trustees by the students on October 16 called for limited leaving of the campus.

Duffin said that the following modifications should be made: any student leaving the campus during lunch must have in his possession a valid lunch pass; students with a valid pass should be allowed to leave by any means; students with a valid pass would be allowed to leave during their lunch period only, and the lunch pass could be revoked if the student is tardy an excessive number of times to his class that directly follows lunch.

He projected that under such a policy, approximately 100 students and between 20 and 30 cars would leave the campus during the lunch period.

Several residents of the area spoke out against the students leaving the campus during the lunch break.

Joe Pehl presented trustees with a petition he said was signed by 834 persons requesting that the campus remain closed. Blair Ceniceros wondered how some students would feel if only part of the student body is allowed to leave the campus and others not.

In addition to several residents speaking up on the requested policy change, results of several surveys were also presented. They showed that if the campus were to be opened at lunchtime, respondents want it controlled with some type of pass.

Dr. Hummel, in stating his reason for wanting the campus to remain closed, told the overflow crowd that he had originally wanted to let students go home who lived within one-half mile of the campus. Travel also would have been permitted only by foot or bicycle.

But in talking to different trustees and many residents of the area, and in light of the petition signed by 834 persons opposing the open campus policy, he modified his recommendation, thus requesting the closed campus.

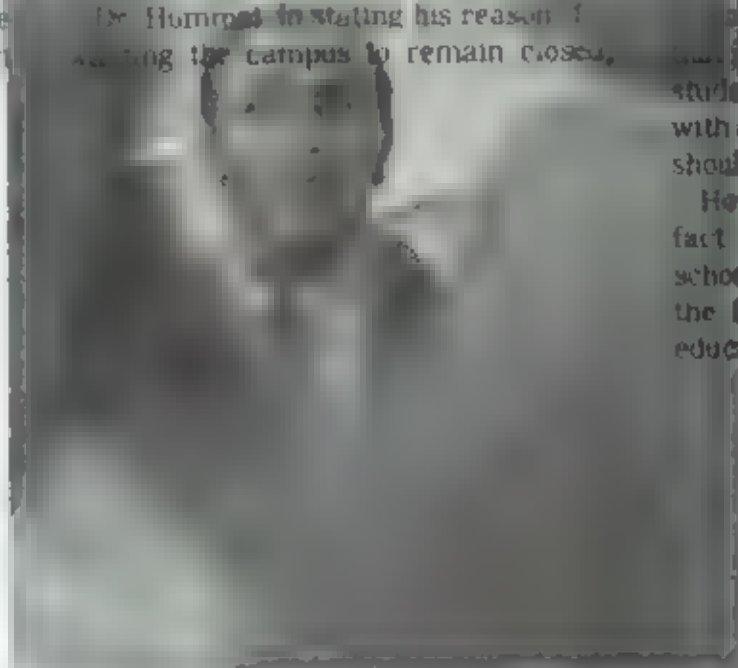

Dr. Hummel stated that the effects of a closed campus policy had been studied by the trustees some two years ago. A method of decision analysis was used by the superintendent to reach his conclusions.

He explained various alternatives in opening the campus and then made his recommendation.

In casting his negative vote, Kellner stated that his main concern was that the students in the high school were getting a negative attitude to education. He suggested that the students try to make a name for forward.

Waller on the other hand suggested that an advisory group be appointed of students and other personnel to come up with suggestions for things that students should do during their lunch break.

He also said he was shook up by the fact that some people called the new school facility a "prison." He added that the facility had been designed for the education of students.

On my side

Lunchtime issue treated calmly

By Bill Jennings

HEMET — Everybody who wanted to had his say concerning an open lunchtime policy at the new Hemet High School.

Some who have weathered "firings" of two superintendents, the "leave them while you're ahead" departure of another, a heavy turnover of principals and administrative aides at the high school felt the issue of a closed or open campus policy was perhaps the most important to face the community and this one in the past 20 years.

It was to the credit of all concerned that the entire issue was discussed rationally. Decisions made in public for the most part, personality kept out of the debate and everyone at least could end up smiling.

THAT THE DECISION is universal, acceptable is of course a pollyanna view. If anyone really seriously believes in a fight with that $4.6 million corner of the world on East Stetson Avenue, he'll be in a dark cave of his own making.

It was good to hear the victors, who kept the campus locked, say now we have to work together, the students and the adults to create something good, something for the kids to do with their 5 minutes each hour besides eat and litter. They don't litter any more than most adults follow down the highway, tin can fans.

It was good to hear the losers say we'll be back again. This was a round lost, not a bout, a battle not a war, but they knew they had run against superior forces.

It was a battle of surveys and petitions, most of which appeared to favor a modified form of open campus, all but the faculty's straw vote, and an 834-person petition, both of which successfully urged the board of trustees to keep the lid on.

AGAIN, IT WAS one of those times I wouldn't want to be a trustee. They don't get paid anything but brickbats and once in a while "thank you" but only once in a while. The administrators at least have a pay day now and then.

To their credit, and infinitely to the credit of the community, the board was able to make a decision in relatively unpressured calm.

I've covered school district meetings in three counties and a dozen districts and I've never seen such a major issue treated in such relative calm. I mean, there wasn't a harsh word.

Adults didn't badger the student speakers. The students used good language, generally good logic and seemed to take the decision with a great deal of cool.

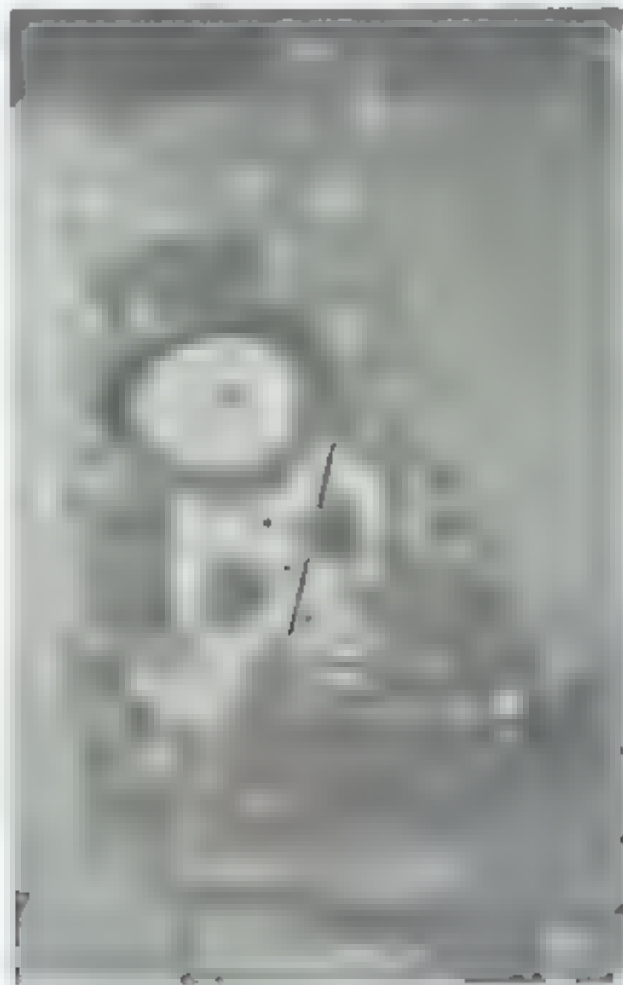

The fringe, estimated at perhaps 3 per cent of the student body, of course is a different matter. You could give them one class period a day, straight A's, five periods of joyriding and a Christmas bonus every Friday and they wouldn't be happy.

AND THAT 3 PER CENT figure would fit any age group, any financial, racial or religious group just as aptly, on any question.

The immediate question is past. Now we can get back to the business of education, some will say. But if the period of time at Hemet High School from Oct. 16 through 8:45 p.m. Dec. 4 wasn't educational then you weren't listening, or reading, or going to meetings or thinking.

Juniors Victorious in Powderpuff Series

On February 20, 1973, there was a powderpuff basketball game between senior and junior girls. The Coaches for the seniors were Steve Brown and Pete McCauley. Junior coaches were Mike Houghton and Marc Pendergrass.

The first part of the game was dominated by the seniors, who at the half led with a score of 8-2. The game definitely changed as the juniors stormed to a victory of 26-15.

The Class of 1973 entered their freshman year with a fine start by familiarizing themselves with the accumulated customs of Hemet High. They took their in the banner contest but their Homecoming float was a flop. The Class of '73' was filled with spirit and eager to carry out their share of the tedious and necessary chores on campus, like raising the flag for home football games. Still full of school spirit, they began their Sophomore year. As Sophomores they took on the tradition of decoration the goal posts at home football games. They had a candy sale at the end of the first quarter to help build up their treasury. But again the Class of '73' Homecoming float flopped. The spirit was then revived as picked out and ordered their class rings. In their Junior year, they were kept busy with concessions during both football and basketball seasons. As Juniors they picked the theme "People Come In All Colors" for Homecoming, and went to work on decorations for the Homecoming dance. As for their float, it was another flop. They picked up their class rings and then prepared themselves for the task of decorating the Junior-Senior Prom with Teri Forest as Chairman, assisted by Susan Lee. The theme was "Precious and Few Are The Moments". Their Senior year was a year of many changes. They were moved out to the new high school to become the first to graduate from the new campus, though most of their high school memories still go back to the old campus. They crowned LuAnn Latimer as their Homecoming Queen and were looking forward to getting first place in the float when the trailer got a flat tire just before the parade, making the Class of 1973 the first class to have four consecutive float flops in high school. With graduation nearing the Seniors started to look into their futures and preparing for the world yet to come.

Vocational Arts Offers New Goals

New to our campus this year is a systematic approach to Vocational Education which has as its main goal providing an opportunity to obtain salable skills to get a job. In addition to this attitude, responsibility, and work experience are highlighted as important assets.

New and improved programs in Work Experience Education and County Regional Occupational Program which provides training in Retail, Trades, Medical Occupations, Teacher Aide, and Food Service, gives everyone the opportunity to gain experience. The use of school landscaping and the student store have helped to make instruction more realistic.

Career Education permits each student to realistically assess personal attributes, to assess, explore occupational opportunities and a realistic occupational choice is made.

Business education is a "earn as you do" department with excellent equipment for student use. Students can learn skills in all types of office machines, participate in operating the student store, belong to Future Business Leaders of America and work independently in many classes.

The student store, Kampus Kennel, is sponsored by FBLA and jointly operated every period by members of the school. The store stocks school supplies, ping pong balls, poster strings, candy, and more.

Administrators

Administration Directs High School Opening

School moved into high gear from the opening day. Twelve hundred students were enrolled on September 11 and quickly accustomed themselves to the procedures and facilities of the new campus. Some of the major changes included going from a four year high school to a three year high school and from an open campus to a closed campus. Students and staff appeared to enjoy the new facilities from the first day. The new high school has fulfilled the prediction that it would become a community center with extensive use of its facilities for such programs as Adult Education classes, recreational activities in the evenings and weekends, and a great many special programs in the theatre and commons.

Administrators Relate To The Community, Faculty, And Students

Mr. Don Congdon, District Accountant

In reviewing this year of 1972, it was a great year. Looking back, a lot of events are memorable.

This was the year of the move. The transfer of many people, supplies, and equipment from the old high school to the new campus was a major undertaking mixed with uncertainty and the knowledge that we were entering a new era of education in Hemet. The high quality of service rendered was evidenced by the smooth transfer and opening of school September, 1972.

This was the first year of the beginning of a long line of opportunities for advancing our individual and community potentials for improved learning experiences through education.

The kind of community educational resource that was initiated this year can provide individuals with tools by which they can become "part of the solution rather than part of the problem."

The Varsity Basketball team has had an exciting but challenging year this year. They are 12-9 so far overall. First they played Fallbrook at Fallbrook, and lost, 81-53. Our second game was a victory as we played Aquinas here and we won 55-48. Next was the Beaumont Tournament. We played three great games, we won San Jacinto, 63-54, then we played Bloomington and we won 58-56. Our last game at Beaumont was with Banning and a tough game it was. Going into it as a home team with a 15-0 record they won 64-57. At Corona, we also played for overtime. In the last ten seconds of our second overtime, Howard Robison put one in the win game for us, 49-47. Elsinore then came to Hemet for another Hemet victory, 55-43. Our next tournament was the Rubidoux Tournament. First we played Bloomington slaughtering them, 51-37. Next we played the host team, Rubidoux, and even though we lost 59-53, Howard Robison was picked into the All-Tournament Team because of his outstanding game. Our last game of the Tournament was with North. We won 61-53. Cajon came to Hemet for another great game in which we lost in an overtime by 4 points. The final score was 59-55. Our next home game was against Moreno Valley which we lost, 66-58. We then played La Sierra there for an easy win, 58-51. Palm Springs came to Hemet and had victory, 54-44. In Yucaipa, we lost 61-45, even though the half time score was only 28-27. Another loss was against Bloomington, 56-53, although we had won against them earlier, 51-37. Howard Robison and Keith Thurman did most of the shooting at Norco, giving us a 78-69 win. At the end of January, we played away at Cajon, and even though we had lost to them in an overtime earlier, we won 55-54. In Moreno Valley, we lost 65-49, which was our second loss to them. La Sierra came to us next for a 48-40 win to Hemet, our second one from them this year.

The greatest player for the Varsity Basketball players had to be Howard Robison, scoring 269 points for the team.

Girls' Tennis Team Finishes Season With 4-2 Record

This year the girls tennis team did a very fine job. On the 17th of October, we played Palm Springs, and a close game it was, unless you don't think that 15-14 is close. Next came Moreno Valley. Hemet did an outstanding job against Moreno Valley, winning their first game of the year, and only the second one of the season. Still up in spirit, we played Aquinas, and skunked them, 29-0. Then, hoping to keep a winning streak, Hemet played a disappointing game with Palm Springs, the second one this year and we lost, 21-8. On November 7, with the season record at 1-1, we played Moreno Valley again, and performed our second skunk of the year with a 20-0 score. This put the girls in a position where they could either win their last game for a 4-2 season record, or they could lose it for a 3-3 record. The Aquinas came here for their final game, and with hardly any difficulty Hemet won, 21-8, and had a 4-2 season record for the year.

At their banquet, awards were given for the following: Most Valuable Player - Sally Mikkelsen, Most Improved Player - Anne Acton, and the Tennis Association award was given to Jenice Craven.

This year's team was a veteran ball club with as many as seven juniors in the starting lineup.

Leading hurlers Glen Finley, Paul Miller, and Tim Cobb have shown early season promise.

Right fielder Rick Baker, one of the team's leading hitters, has a record of ten stolen bases thus far into the season.

David Gibson, Joe Burgess, Paul Miller, and Bruce Perry have displayed good consistency at the plate.

Thinclads Triumph in S.A.L. Competition

A well disciplined 1973 track team got out of the blocks fast this year as they defeated six of their first seven opponents, including four league victories. After warm-up track meet wins over Pacific and Coachella Valley, the Bulldogs took first place at La Sierra, Moreno Valley, Palm Springs and Yucaipa. The Bulldogs also came in second in the Palm Springs Relays. In the field events the Bulldogs lead the greatest overall depth of anyone in the S.A.L. In the shot put, Manuel Necochea and Tom Vail were both good for over 48 feet. In the long jump, Billy Cook and Stan Houghton excelled with Cook coming in around 21.5 feet.

High jumper Bob Rathbone reached the 6' level with younger brother Mike and B. Cook right behind. In the pole vault Kevin Stone was the Bulldog star.

In the running events, Dave Anderson turned in some of the fastest times in the county in the 220. In the 880, Matt Bagby and Kent Fraser usually finished 1st and 2nd place. Necochea also did well in the 100. Hurdler Billy Cook turned in excellent performances in the 180 Lows and 120 Highs.

The mile relay team of Matt Bagby, Kevin Long, Dave Anderson and Darrell Jacques turned in the best time in the S.A.L. (3:33:8).

The Bulldogs are looking for their second league title in three years. Already having whipped Palm Springs the only competition will come from Cajon.

The Varsity tennis team is hoping to improve on its record of 10 wins and 10 losses in the 1970-71 season.

The team was led this year by junior Mike Schatz, who played first-singles, and was a former doubles player for two years. The remainder of the singles squad consisted of David Crook, who was second singles last year, and Tim Hurlbut, who was second singles. Talented and enthusiastic newcomers Tim Hurlbut and Doug Mudge, contributed greatly. Dave Crook, a two-year letterman, played fourth singles and again demonstrated his talents for winning. Junior, Wyn Stocking, rounded out the singles squad. Stocking lettered for the first time and will be expected back next year.

Junior, Dave Schmelling (3 year letterman) and Glen Gruner, made-up the first doubles team and were powerful contenders for the individual letterman position in first doubles. The second doubles was led by juniors Wayne Wyant and Wayne Jones, both two-year lettermen.

The team got off to a slow start, but again showed great potential as the season progressed.

The Girls Athlete Association competes for sports trophies at the last school year in the State as a member of the Cup of America. Come as You Are - breakfast for my members and dear. At the board play in the afternoon we award with the Secretary, my friend, who I was proud to say, I have been the Vice President. GAA look forward to hosting a more place next year as our first year with a new school and our first year. One of the year GAA director will be our first year as a whole school. We are going to be a new place for the girls' locker room GAA and the girls' sports fee. This will be a two-way investment for the future.

“Mini” Class Suffers “Maxi” Problems

A minute working staff suffering demanding deadlines can result in a state of bedlam or constructive accomplishments. The seven members of the 1973 Loomis staff experienced both; this year was no different than the past. The ‘magnificent seven’ encountered all conceivable forms of desperation throughout the year. Pressures of a hurriedly interrupted editing operation of the book. Members will exist of the justness, reward but a successful yearbook was the result.

Like many traditions to remain with the memory of 'old Hemet High' so goes the 'old' name of the school newspaper 'THE BULLDOG.'

The new name of the school newspaper, MAZE, infers the meaning of the maze symbol 'to reflect life.'

The maze symbol is a maze-shaped carving imbedded upon the face of a granite boulder, the Maze Stone, located fifteen miles west of Hemet.

Hopefully the newspaper staff learned from this year's mistakes, so that the new paper, MAZE becomes an important instrument for Hemet High students and the community.

New Traditions Established And Old Ones Revived By Student Council

After moving to the new school, student council's first objective was to establish some new traditions. This project began with Homecoming. A nostalgia theme was chosen and some of the week's activities included powderpuff football, dress-up day, a soc hop, and hat day. The express board in the great court area became a vital part of student life as it provided an outlet for student ideas. In addition to all this films, bands, and a volleyball tournament became incorporated into the lunch hour.

However the issue early in the year involved a closed campus policy initiated by the school board. The students were occupied with this policy in the early months of school and tried to get a modified lunch policy. The project involved home meetings, mailed PTSA information sheets, and a neighborhood night for those living within a half mile of the school to inform the community of our proposals. Although the modified lunch policy was rejected by the school board, the project not only gained community respect but was a learning experience to every council member.

Over-all, the outstanding leadership of this year's council combined with the general enthusiasm of the student body resulted in one of the most successful years of student government ever seen at Hemet High School.

Musicians Display Multi-Talents

Bulldog Band participated in many activities during the 1972-73 school year. The football season was again a busy one as the band performed for home football games. In October, the band had the honor of playing for President Nixon at the Ontario Airport upon his return to California prior to the election. The rest of the year found the band marching in the Hemet Christmas Parade and the Ramona Pageant Parade. The annual Winter Concert was held in the new theatre this year.

Many students did well in the solo and ensemble festival and the band did its usual fine job in the District Festival in April. The year was rounded off with a tour to Phoenix, Arizona, a trip to Disneyland and two spring concerts with the choir.

Special honors by members this year: Katy Lovell was selected to play in the All-Southern California Honor Orchestra and the All-California Honor Orchestra. Scott Hofferber was selected to play in the All-Southern California Honor Band.

The purpose of Chamber Singers is to learn to become better through the experience of performance and learning the various styles of music, and to perform for the many different organizations throughout the community upon request. Besides local performances, the Chamber Singers have performed at the Mesa Riverside Plaza music festival, at Chapman College, Costa Mesa, and San Diego. Due to the popularity of their performance, this group has been asked to perform up to fifty times a year, many of these during the Christmas Season.

FIDDLER ON THE ROOF

Drama Department began the year in their performance of YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU—a hilarious comedy that centers on several families that live together. Theatre Workshop's second play, INHERIT THE WIND, was based on the Scope Case, a legal case between a teacher who taught Darwin's theory of evolution and a Bible-belt prosecuting attorney. The popular musical comedy FIDDLER ON THE ROOF was staged in Spring. The play was based on Jewish tradition in Russia. Along with the new school, the Drama department acquired an asset that past student productions never possessed, which was a 'Little Theatre'. Only through unity of the department and student appreciation, will time prove the worth of the first real theatre of Hemet High.

Active participation by the twelve members of Speech Club in the Citrus Belt Speech League has led to a productive year. Generally all students have done well, Hemet High is well represented by these twelve who participated in a number of tournaments speaking in this league. Both Larry Lord and Paula Seveland have placed. Members also take part each year in four speech contests sponsored by the four Lion's Clubs in the valley. The Speech Club also participated in District and State finals competition. At the close of the year five new students qualified for N.E.L. (National Forensics League) through their work and participation in Speech Club.

F.F.A. Competes In Numerous Events

The Hemet F.F.A., one of the largest and most active clubs on campus, has a membership of 145 students. This included the 9th graders at the Junior High School.

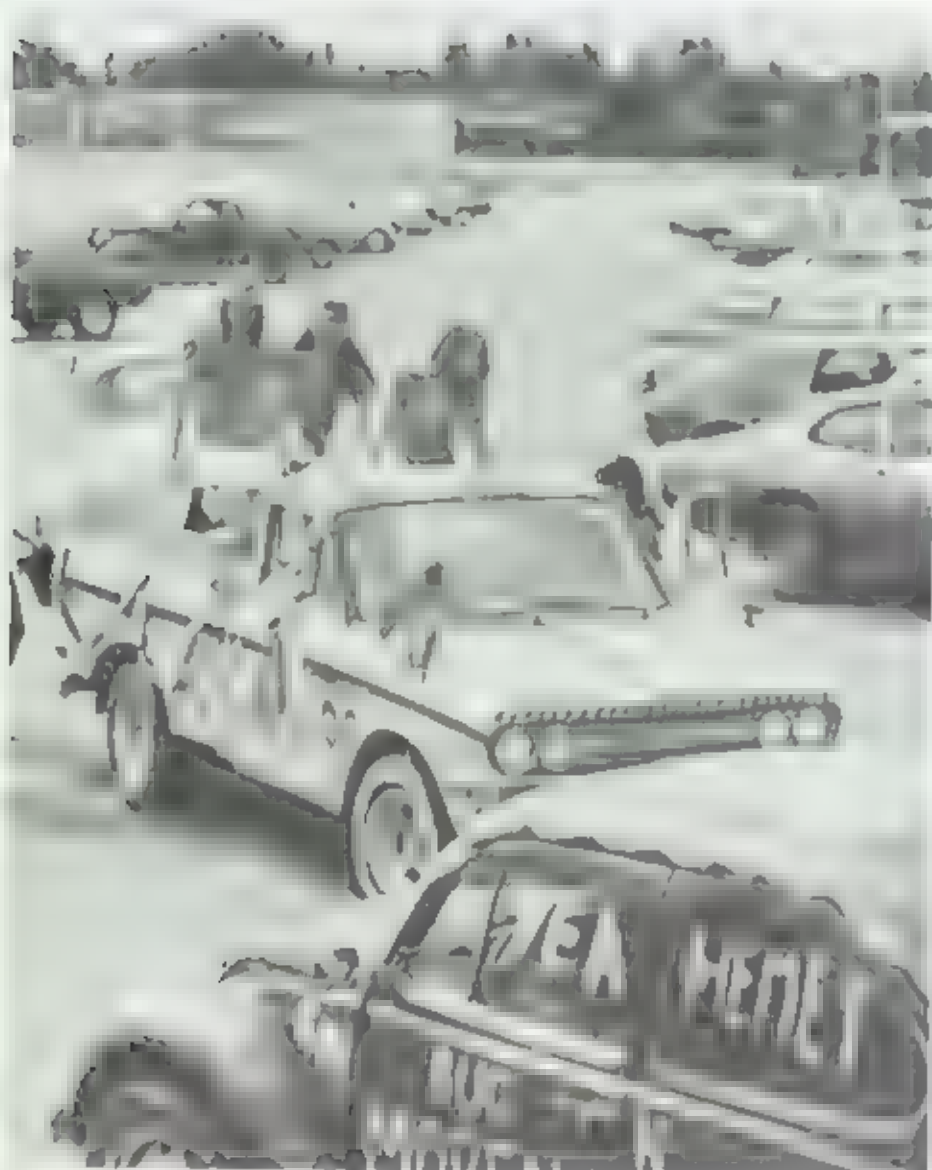

During the school year and summer vacation, the F.F.A. had such activities as public speaking, parliamentary procedure, chapter sweetheart, Christmas dance, the State and National F.F.A. convention, and judging contests for livestock, dairy, poultry and ag. mechanics. The F.F.A. also has had fund raising activities such as benefit breakfasts and bar-b-ques.

The highlight of every year is when a fair or livestock show comes around. The members are then able to show their animals and other F.F.A. projects that they have raised during the year and then they get to sell them. Towards the end of the year the Hemet F.F.A. held a banquet where parents and members attended. Awards and scholarships were given at this time. The next year's officers were also installed.

Here stands the Hemet F.F.A. team. Row 1: Steve, John, Barbara, Bill, Evans, Jeff Meyer, Catherine, Victoria, Lisa, Howard, Shari, Aubrey, Lori, Heyl. Girls League, a service organization for all girls at Henri High School, undertook several exciting activities, including a Fashion Show given by the Harris Club in Riverside and the Backwards Dance on March 17. The traditional Senior Tea to host the incoming Fresh girls was also held at the end of this year. Also, a Junior Dangler Banquet was planned. The climax of our activities is the All Night Slumber Party held in the gym featuring a scary movie at 3:00 am.

Future Business Leaders of America (FBLA) starts its second year at Henri High. Through membership, business students develop leaders (participate in ed, ideas and job projects) and strengthen confidence in their ability to choose a business occupation. Members this year have taken several trips, enjoyed a Christmas party, entertained their mothers at a Valentine's Luncheon, attended district and state conferences. FBLA opened and operates the student store "Kampus Kennel" its major service project for the year.
